HOT WORKS: YOUR ART. OUR PASSION.™

Our passion is to help you be successful selling your artwork – because at Hot Works, your success is our success. We emphasize quality of work, not quantity of artists. All art is original and personally handmade by the artist in attendance. We support the unique relationship between artist and patron; we inspire and encourage serious art shoppers to purchase your art.

Hot Works' principal partner Patty Narozny has 30+ years of event and media experience. Her longevity in the event industry, combined with her expertise, credibility, durability, integrity, tenacity and stability makes Hot Works events not only profitable for those who participate, but gratifying for all – the community, the artists, the sponsors, and the patrons.

WHY DO A HOT WORKS SHOW?

- 30+ years of professional event production and media experience
- A promoter who personally knows, cares about, and supports the artists
- Focus is visual arts, juried by art professionals
- Every effort to eliminate buy/sell/import/production – we encourage artists to report it, and your name is held in complete confidence
- Each event is tailored to its community and setting
- Friday move-in for all shows!
- Great event hours: Saturday & Sunday 10am-5pm (Orchard Lake is Saturday until 6pm)
- Enormous advertising campaign – TV, radio, print, digital marketing, posters, banners, post cards, signage, etc. – specifically targeted to reach an art-buying, cultured patron with money to spend
- Several shows to choose from throughout the year - dealing with one organization
- Professionally managed
- Friendly and experienced professional event crew
- Booth sitters available
- Professional Artist Awards in every event
- Artist amenities including, complimentary bottled water and continental artist awards breakfast on Sunday

TESTIMONIALS

Sabra Richards, Sculpture, Worton, MD

"What makes a good show? Sales certainly count. Patty is a media expert and uses all her knowledge to get great publicity and bring in the crowds. She wants a good show and is willing to provide every advantage she can, prior day set up, aggressive policing of buy-sell, fair jurying and numerous awards that help sales. I want to do her shows because she is on my side."

Gail Markiewicz, Clay, Woodbridge, CT

"Patty, who produces the Hot Works shows, juries in the best artists from around the country, she runs an art show of "pure talent". Her dedication to the arts is evident, when you come to her shows! Her shows are wonderful and professional, as well as she is personally."

Sally Bright, Sculpture, Fenton, MI (Retired)

"What do you expect of a show director? Two actions are most important, I believe: The use of lots of targeted marketing and keeping buy/sell and other fraudulent exhibitors out of art and fine craft shows. Patty Narozny of Hotworks.org is a master of marketing. She even lists all of the advertising for each show on her website for you to see. Take a look here.

Patty is relentless when it comes to keeping buy/sell and other fraud out of her shows. From her application forms to her artist communications to in-person conversations with artists at shows, she constantly asks to be informed of any fraudulent exhibitors. Patty advertises the fact that all exhibitors in her shows are the makers of the work shown. She works hard to keep her shows pure.

Additionally, she is one of the absolute top tier of directors when it comes to having the artist's back. She does whatever it takes to bring you a qualified audience of buyers. It's up to you to make the sales as she does everything possible to help you succeed."

Frank Borelli, Fiber, Portage, IN

"Patty, not only are you a great promoter and conscientious about the quality of your exhibitors, but you are truly a nice person."
